Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

This column is being written on Thursday, November 11, 1943. Just 25 years after an armistice was signed bringing to a halt hostilities of World War I.

Well do I remember that day 25 years ago. I was a lad just starting my senior year in high school.

I remember the high-sounding phrases which caused me to believe there would be no more war during my lifetime. Never will I forget the one that said some things were "so important to world safety for democracy." How empty that phrase sounds today, a quarter of a century later—in a chaotic world and Americans fighting on dozens of battle fronts.

The successful bidder has made arrangements to open an office in Belle Glade from which all business of the company will be transacted.

Rebuilding of the road will bring slight inconvenience to motorists in this area, but, they'll be happy to know that the work will be done to passable condition in one more time. Plans call for rebuilding one-half of the road at a time, thus allowing traffic to keep moving.

I remember too, the scrapping of our navy—the scrapping of our army until it contained only handful of men—the promises of other countries. I also remember that sometime during the past 25 years somebody was calling Uncle Sam "Uncle Shylock" because he wanted to collect a war debt.

The Armistice on November 11, 1918 built hope in the minds of millions. This hope to be shattered less than a quarter of a century later by power-mad dictators and their cohorts. But, what were we doing all that time?

Politicians lulled us into a sense of security with their powerful oratory—then out of a clear blue Sunday sky, came Pearl Harbor! America awoke! Americans began to realize that a world made safe for democracy was then again crumbling apart. Then it was rapid decline in name. World War II began. Corregidor, Thailand, Sicily and today, the Road to Home. How long will it go on?

Those of us who thought November 11, 1918 was a day to end all wars have had a rude awakening. We know that everyday there comes a new tale of Versailles. Sometimes I wonder if that treaty wasn't the real declaration of the second world war.

But who am I—a mere country editor—to try to write an armistice day editorial when more brilliant minds have written millions of words to no avail. America has been warned through the years—but America didn't listen. And, so it shall be in years to come!

Pahokee-Belle Glade Road Rebuilding To Get Under Way

AT LAST something is going to be done about the road between Pahokee and Belle Glade. Before the passing of too many more months, the contractor will put in condition where traffic can move over it without the danger of bouncing into the canal.

On Tuesday, October 26, contract for re-treading the road was let by the state road department to the Wright Construction Company of Panama City. The contractor has agreed to have re-treading job completed within 90 days after actual construction work gets started.

The successful bidder has made arrangements to open an office in Belle Glade from which all business of the company will be transacted.

Rebuilding of the road will bring slight inconvenience to motorists in this area, but, they'll be happy to know that the work will be done to passable condition in one more time. Plans call for rebuilding one-half of the road at a time, thus allowing traffic to keep moving.

Full House Greets Moberg On Return

Capacity congregations greeted the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pahokee, last Sunday, upon his return, after an absence of two months due to illness, to the pulpit.

The developmental program for this Sunday morning's preaching hour will be conducted by The Sunbeams, the youngest missionary band of the church, under the leadership of Mrs. W. L. Jones.

A special program of services will be presented beginning this Sunday morning.

"What the prophet had to say about Christ's First Coming."

At night 8 o'clock, the pastor will speak on "Sown in Corruption, Reaped in Glory."

The musical family of seven fifth led the program. The "Illuminated Cross Meditation Sing," will be presented, with the pastor at the miniature organ.

Book Week Is November 14 to 20

"Build the Future with Books" is this year's slogan for Book Week (November 14-20) for day play during that week student activities have prepared many new books for the Pahokee High School Library and Pahokee Elementary Library.

At the High School new fiction includes: "Assignment in Britain," "Journey for Margaret," "The Song of Bernadette," and "Adam of the Road," the New Award book.

Mrs. Harris has been attorney for the Town of South Bay since it was incorporated in 1941. He tendered his resignation on October 26 and it was reluctantly accepted by the board of council members. Members of the South Bay council signed their regrets and also showed their appreciation with a bonus check.

During the years that Mr. and Mrs. Harris have lived in Pahokee they have gained a wide circle of friends who will regret to know that they are to move away. They plan, however, to return to Pahokee at winter end.

In communication on this change Mr. Harris said: "It'll probably be a member of Uncle Sam's fighting forces soon and believe it good business to spend the interim with the treasury department."

After the war I plan to return to my office in Pahokee. I'd like to express my sincere thanks to the many people of the Lake Region who have made my practice a success."

Humorous stories for the very small children and career books and others like "Hills of Finland," "Young Stonewall," "Abraham Lincoln" illustrated by the D'Aulaires and "The Matchlock Gun," for the upper grades will be on exhibit at the Pahokee Elementary Library.

Armed Forces Day 1943. It must have an empty meaning to those 400 boys from Pahokee and Canal Point who are scattered all over the world making valiant effort to once again bring peace to millions of people.

My sincere hope is that before the dawning of another Nov. 11th those boys will have accomplished their mission and at least be assured of return to their homes and firesides.

Carol Jo Guthrie Has Birthday Party

Carol Jo Guthrie celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Leon Gathie, at their home on Canal Point on Saturday afternoon.

Favors of candy baskets daintily fashioned from handkerchief chiefs were presented to each guest and refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by the hostess who assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. A. Humphries, Sr., and her aunt, Mrs. N. D. Carpenter, vice president; Mrs. Ralph

Attorney Raymond C. Alley, Mrs. Paul Bear, president of the Pahokee Chapter of the W.M.F. association, has been named judge of the criminal court of Palm Beach County by Governor Edward L. Holland. The new judge came to West Palm Beach in 1927. He succeeds Judge John L. Moore who died several weeks ago.

Mrs. W. L. Kerr was re-elected president of the Pahokee Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service at a meeting held at the church on Monday afternoon. Other officers elected for the coming year included Mrs. O. D. Carpenter, vice president; Mrs. Ralph

Lampi, Players Attend Band Meet

Robert O. Lampi, director of the Pahokee High School Band was in Pahokee from Tuesday to Thursday of this week attending a State band masters meeting. Director Lampi took along with him for performances at the meeting some of his top notch players including Margaret A. Lampi, piano; Wm. W. Lampi, clarinets; Ronald Stanley, trumpet; Lee Jeffers and Lester Harton, cornets; Billy Rawls, saxophone and Sam Lovell, trombone.

Dr. D. S. Spooner's residence in the Pahokee High School store around 7:30 p.m. Monday night while he was at his farm near Port Royal. The blaze had gained considerable headway before it was discovered by the housekeeper and had reached the roof before it was extinguished by the fire department.

Damage to the interior of the house by smoke and water was rather severe, according to Fire Chief Marvin Levin.

Robert Mackey, Pahokee councilman and green vegetable dealer, has moved his place of business to the Pahokee Farmers Market.

TRADE HORN AT WAR

Some people, it is said, will work for neither love nor money. Among them are the natives of the South Pacific islands. They won't work for money, certainly. That has no value to them, but they will labor long and eagerly for a piece of junk jewelry, a pair of noisy shoes, or a bar of chocolate.

Money was no incentive to the native in Africa who hired out as a servant. American flyers for an old blue denim hat. In Casablanca, an American official found a pocketful of chocolate squares more useful than money for tips.

Natives of the South Pacific have no use for change or bills, but find a pair of squeaky American shoes a tempting prize in exchange for goods and services. Non-squeaking shoes are appreciated.

In many cities junk jewelry has been collected to send to the armed forces in remote outposts, where trinkets of this type will persuade natives to transport wounded men, carry supplies and munitions, and perform other tasks which they would not consider worth the effort for money.

We may be tempted to smile at this from our civilized perch. That is, until we stop to recall that America's pioneers and the British who settled colonies in Asia and Africa and Australia indulged in a good bit of plain and fancy trading in days gone by, and their exchanges were equally amusing to those today. In fact, there is still a lot of small swapping going on. Indeed, doesn't it take more than money to "buy meat?"—Christian Science Monitor.

UNREASONABLE

A Morriston, N. J., man was called on the carpet by the ration board's court panel. Why, they wished to know, had he been seen sitting with a woman in his automobile in a secluded spot when there was a ban on unnecessary driving? Oh, but it was essential—he had been with his estranged wife, he then said, trying to get her signature on a mortgage.

"Couldn't he take the bus to see her?" the court demanded.

"No, she was an unreasonable woman, she wouldn't sign a mortgage on a bus ride."

The ration board's court panel, too, was a bit unreasonable. Unnecessary driving was the decision.—Penalty, four gasoline ration coupons.—Lake City Reporter.

Woman's Club Receives Piano

The Pahokee Woman's Club held its first program meeting of the season in the clubhouse on Tuesday evening. Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, who were guests of honor at the meeting, presented the Woman's Club with a piano.

The presentation of the piano was made by Mrs. Alma Farrow in behalf of the B&PWC and the acceptance speech was given by Mrs. R. J. Schroder, president of the Woman's Club, who presided.

The resignation from membership in the club to Mrs. R. Earl Smith, who has moved to West Palm Beach, was accepted. Mrs. Schrader announced that an executive board luncheon meeting would be held at Margaret's restaurant on Nov. 23, and the next regular program meeting would be held on Dec. 14 with Mrs. Panay Smith, public welfare chairman, in charge of the program.

Mrs. O. D. Carpenter, guest speaker, gave a talk on "Conservation in Wartime." Other members on the program included a piano solo, Miss Patsey Creel, piano selections, Mrs. Marian Little; vocal solo, Miss Joan McLaury, accompanied at the piano by Miss Betty Jean McLaury. Mrs. Leon Spomer, chairman of the entertainment committee, was in charge of the program and entertainment. She was assisted by Mrs. J. M. Elliott, Mrs. Pat Scheepers, Mrs. H. B. Baxter and Mrs. Lewis Friend.

Workers in a Michigan refinery faced up to a very low false door leading to the office. On it is inscribed:

"You will learn to duck lower if you don't buy a bond."

for Conservatio of Electricity!

And Millions of American Homes Will Be Back on a Peace-time Basis all the soon-er if We All Conserve Now.

BY using only the electric-service you need, you can save transportation fuel, equipment and materials . . . and help keep war production at its maximum. There is no electric power shortage — American business management's long range planning saw to that — but conservation of electricity does help save critical war materials and man-power needed to produce war. Your job is to learn how to use the electricity you need . . . without waste.

It's hard to save. Proper use of your appliances means real savings. Do your part . . . and every other American will do his.

Plan To Entertain

Plans for entertaining 150 Baptists at the meeting of the Palm Lake Association to be held in Pahokee on Nov. 18 were announced by members of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary Union at a meeting Monday afternoon. Representatives from Canal Point, Belle Glade, Pahokee, Clew-iston, Moore Haven, LaBelle, West Palm Beach and Lake Worth are expected to be present. Among the distinguished church officials scheduled to speak will be Dr. C. H. Bolton of Jacksonville, State Secretary of the Baptist Board and T. M. Johns, superintendent of the Baptist Home in Arcadia.

Miss Elizabeth Caraway presided at the Monday meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ethel B. Stevens. Mrs. Stella Mullins presented the royal service program which had as its theme "Paganism." She was assisted by Mrs. Willie Kemp, Mrs. J. E. Mock, Mrs. Margaret Thompson and Miss Caraway. Mrs. George Klin gave the meditation which was based on "All Pagans, My Klin."

THOUSANDS OF ARMY VEHICLES USE SINCLAIR LUBRICANTS

In saving wear and avoiding breakdowns the U. S. Army uses Sinclair lubricants in many "Jeeps", tanks and other vehicles. Your Sinclair Dealer has the same quality lubricants to reduce wear in your car.

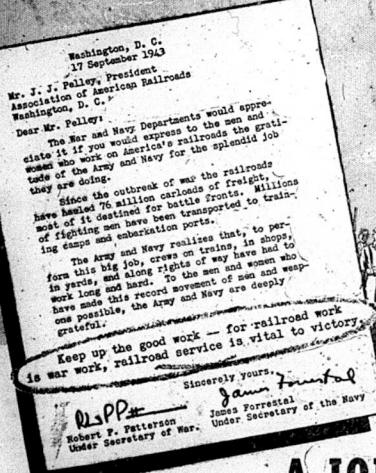

To save engine wear, he has Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Opaline stands up better and lasts longer because it is not only de-waxed but also de-jellied. Play safe, have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Opaline every 1,000 miles.

A JOB WELL DONE

The men and women of the Florida East Coast Railway are proud of the part they are playing in helping to speed military operations. Recognition that this vital job is being well done is an inspiration to even greater effort.

These soldiers of transportation will continue to surmount all difficulties in keeping the wheels rolling smoothly and steadily under a record load of war and civilian traffic until final Victory is achieved.

And when peace returns, these same men and women, who live and work in Florida, will be better prepared than ever before to provide the kind of transportation that will insure Florida a brilliant future.

- BY MALCOLM MILLAR -
What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

The picture slated for the Owl Show, Saturday, and the Sunday-Monday run at the Prince Theatre is "Next Of Kin," which stars Nova Pilbeam with Phillip Stanley, Basil Sydney and a cast of hundreds of regular service men in the unreeling of one of the most absorbing stories brought to the screen this year.

According to the story a British brigade plans a Commando raid on a French Coastal base suspected as being used as a German submarine base. Months of preparation are spent on the plan for the raid and much training is undergone.

During the training period some of the plan breakers go through loose talk and when the actual raid is made the Commandos are almost entirely annihilated, because this loose talk, pieced together, has been forwarded by the Germans to their headquarters and they have planned to meet the Commandos at the beach.

Although the picture is a British film and the cast almost entirely unknown to the American cinema going public, the story is so powerful and the acting and direction is so faultless that this picture is outstanding and I'm sure that those who attend the Owl Show will be shoving will enjoy every foot of it.

I suppose everyone has had a laugh at the popular air comedies.

ian Harold Perry, better known as "Gildersleeve." Many people have had a desire to see him in his new role as a hero. He should bring home to every American the folly of loose talk. This picture is "Next Of Kin," which stars Nova Pilbeam with Phillip Stanley, Basil Sydney and a cast of hundreds of regular service men in the unreeling of one of the most absorbing stories brought to the screen this year.

The picture is said to have a very weak plot, but its defense is that it is a good morale picture and the reviews are such that the picture is very enjoyable in its unreeling.

Well, Simone Simon, the French beauty who came to this country a few years ago and made "Seven Heaven," returns to our screen this Thursday-Friday with Dennis O'Keefe as her leading man. "The Story Of Louis Adams" is a support of the picture, a sentimental musical comedy drama, with the strong and everything, under the title "Tahiti Honey."

Personally I was never a Simon fan, never having appreciated her art from the first time I saw her. I am not sure what you think of her, but I am sure that those who attend the Owl Show will be shoving will enjoy every foot of it.

Although the picture is a British film and the cast almost entirely unknown to the American cinema going public, the story is so powerful and the acting and direction is so faultless that this picture is outstanding and I'm sure that those who attend the Owl Show will be shoving will enjoy every foot of it.

The Three Mesquiteers gallop into the Prince, come this Friday, November 12, and offer "Shadows On The Stage," which is another Western story that should delight every member of the Six Shooters Club.

And there, my friends, you have it for the week, and I hope I have given you the right dops on every one of them—although I could be wrong.

In signing off, may I remind

Coffee Will Not Be Rationed Again

There are a great many rumors that coffee rationing will be resumed with the coming season. The purpose of this Bulletin is to attempt to stop that rumor. There are no plans for resuming the rationing of coffee, although War Ration Book 4 contains coffee stamps.

There is absolutely no chance that coffee will again be rationed. The reason is that there is more green coffee in this country today than ever before. When coffee rationing started in November, 1942 we had only 201,000,000 pounds of green coffee on hand in the country. When coffee rationing was discontinued in July, 1943, we had 485,000,000 pounds of green coffee on hand. Then on September 1, 1943, the stock pile of green coffee had grown to 554,000,000 pounds. More has come since September 1, and more is coming because the ocean shipping situation is steadily improving.

The stamps in War Ration Book 4 marked "coffee" were printed before coffee rationing was discontinued.

Mrs. W. H. May and Mrs. W. E. Pope were business visitors in Miami just recently.

You Christmas is just around the corner and, as a suggestion, why not give a War Bond as a Yuletide gift? It is an appreciative gift and a patriotic one and you can get those war bonds at the Theatres, with complimentary tickets.

See you at the movies—Mal.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mornin', Judge... meetin' someone?"

"No, Sam. I'm just goin' up the line aways on business. Wan't that a troop train that just pulled out?"

"Sure was, Judge... stopped over here for ten minutes and what a swell bunch of fellas they were!"

"That's true all over, Sam. Our present Army is the best trained, best disciplined, best behaved in American history. That's why I get my hair up when I hear of some people trying to dry up the areas around Army camps. Why, in a recent report made by the government, I heard the Army usually prefers its camps to be located in wet instead of dry communities. And there's a sound reason. In a wet community the Army can control drinking. In dry communities where bootleggers run wild it's almost impossible. We know that from our nearly 14 years of experience with national prohibition."

"There's no getting away from it, prohibition does not prohibit."
